

AI RECEPTIONIST

Every call answered. Every customer kept.

A 24/7 voice AI that picks up when you can't — and turns missed calls back into booked consultations.

Presented by George Dragonir

Your phone is ringing when you can't pick up

Every business loses calls — and most owners have no idea how many. The call goes to voicemail, the customer hangs up, and dials the next name on the list.

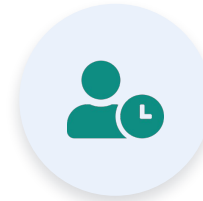

On a job or with a customer

Hands are full. The phone rings out.

After hours & weekends

Up to half of calls land outside 9–5.

Short-staffed or slammed

Lines back up; callers won't wait.

Straight to voicemail

85% of people won't leave one — or call back.

The calls you miss don't disappear. They become your competitor's customers.

Let's put a number on it

A simple, honest example — swap in your own numbers:

$$\begin{array}{ccccc} 5 & \times & $500 & \times & 52 & = $130,000 \\ \text{missed calls / week} & & \text{average job value} & & \text{weeks a year} & \text{walking out the door, every year} \end{array}$$

This is the cheapest revenue you'll ever recover. You already paid to make that phone ring — through your sign, your ads, your reputation. The only leak is that no one answered.

The fix: a receptionist that never misses

A voice AI answers your phone on the first ring — 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. It sounds natural, talks like a real person, and never takes a sick day, a lunch break, or a vacation.

- ✓ Picks up every single call, instantly

- ✓ Set up around how YOUR business runs

“Thanks for calling! I can book you in for Thursday at 2 — what's the best number to text you a confirmation?”

Always on. Always polite. Always on-message.
